BERLIN REDS
STAGE RAID
ON CITY HALLCommunists Crash Police
Lines To Hold Demonstration

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 26—Howlin, Communist-led demonstrators smashed through police lines and stormed into Berlin's city hall today.

Communist leaders shouted a demand for "an end to this bankrupt city government." They called for formation of a "new, democratic administration in Berlin which will work hand in hand with the great Soviet union and the countries of eastern Europe."

Police reserves were called up to handle the crowd, estimated to total more than 10,000 persons.

They forced their way through a police line, led by men who shouted:

"Down with the capitalists!"
"Down with the splitters!"

After bursting into the building, which is located in the Soviet sector of the city, they rushed upstairs to the city assembly chambers.

Meeting Called Off

The city parliament had been scheduled to meet this afternoon, but called off the session when the threats of Communist Demonstrations became known.

Red banners carried the words: "One Administration, One Currency," "We Want Potatoes," "Down With the Enemies of the Workers," "Down With the Agents of Monopoly Capitalism."

Berlin's city parliament, (council), predominantly anti-Communist, had been scheduled to vote today on a resolution to send a Berlin delegation to western Germany's "constitutional assembly." The postponement was proposed by Socialist Leader Franz Neuman and approved by the parliament's nine-man senior committee.

Acting Mayor Ferdinand Friedenberg told members he could not guarantee parliament's safety. He said he had been tipped off by a member of Moscow-trained Paul Markgraf's eastern Berlin police that Communist demonstrations were planned.

The demonstrators were members of the Socialist Unity party (SED), which is sponsored by the Russians and dominated by the eastern zone Communists. The crowd gathered outside the city hall, carrying red banners and chanting the Communist anthem, the "Internationale."

Presbyterian Church
Redecoration Underway

Coincidental to the spiritual New Life Movement in the Presbyterian church is the redecoration of the exterior of the Salem church and the painting and refurbishing of the interior of the educational building.

Some $5,000 will be expended upon completion of the program now being carried out.

The tower, from which sounds the chimes heard each Sunday morning, has been gilded and all the paintable portion of the outside of the church has a coating of white trim.

Each Sunday school room is in the process of being painted, to be followed by laying of carpet and the installation of new furnishings suitable to the individual class.

The project is under the supervision of the Women's association.

Cuts In Farm Price Supports Loom

GOVERNMENT PLAN
TO HOLD PRICE
LEVEL IS COSTLY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—Talk of possible cuts in farm price supports was heard in government circles today.

It stemmed from the prospect that the Agriculture department may have to put up around $1,500,000,000 to keep prices on 1948 crops from falling below levels fixed by law.

Any changes would have to be made by congress, however, and the lawmakers are not due back until January.

Discussion of the price support problem was heard anew at the agriculture department where officials are mapping out a 1949 farm production program. Its goal is to get farmers to start cutting back from high wartime levels in some crops—particularly wheat, potatoes, oilseeds, and possibly corn.

Urges Wheat Acreage Cut

A proposal that eight per cent less land be planted to wheat already has been announced. But reports from the field indicate growers plan to ignore the department's recommendations and plant another big acreage.

The action of congress in June in extending the wartime price supports for basic crops another year was said to be influencing the farmers' wheat plans. Officials said growers of other crops also are likely to ignore suggestions for smaller output of crops already listed as surplus.

The Truman administration had urged lower price supports for next year's crops.

No responsible department official is willing to be quoted by name, but many already are estimating it will take around $1,500,000,000 in commodity loans and government purchases to carry out supports on this year's crops.

These estimates include: 3,000,000 bales of cotton for a total of between $450,000,000 and $500,000,000; 100,000,000 bushels of wheat at $200,000,000; 400,000,000 bushels of corn at about $800,000,000; and $250,000,000 on other commodities, including eggs and potatoes.

Officials said present support levels might encourage big crops again next year which would involve another $1,500,000,000 in price supports.

100 On Vessel In Hurricane Area

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26—The steamship, Virginia, with approximately 100 passengers on board, wallowed through a hurricane in the Atlantic about 1,200 miles southeast of Miami today.

The passenger-freight ocean liner is en route from New York to Cape Town, South Africa. She reported no danger but "very rough seas" in a message to the weather bureau's storm warning service at Miami.

The hurricane developed in a section of the Atlantic which storm forecasts said "is a blank unless a ship is there." The Virginia gave first word of the tropical blow early today.

A Russian ship, the Petmakis Nomikos, was at the western edge of the storm and informed the weather bureau by radio that the barometer had dropped to 29.52 and continued to fall.

A navy hurricane hunter plane winged its way around the storm to determine its direction and prepared to pierce the disturbance to its center. The plane was piloted by Lt. (jg) C. W. Gibbs of Laurens, S. C.

PROGRESS ON CITY STREET
JOBS SHOWNService Director Traces
Work In Largest Single Project

"In the largest paving program in Salem history, many miles of city streets are nearing the final stage of rejuvenation," Service Director Frank Wilson said today.

Wilson declared that local citizens are now riding on streets that have been changed to first class paved avenues, from mud or cinder hazards, while some previously paved streets are now being covered with sealcoat.

The director defined sealcoating as a resurfacing operation in which asphalt is spread over the paved surfaces and then small stone chips are applied. All charges for sealcoating are paid jointly by the city and the property owners, whose lots face the street.

Grading Important

"To construct new streets, never before paved, careful grading is the first operation," said Wilson. Installation of sewers is next. A settling period follows. After curbs have been placed the street base is covered with a coat of heavy slag. In the final operation a two-inch covering of blacktop is applied and the rollers finish the work on each street.

Liberty st. from Newgarder ave. to the city limits received the last step in the paving operation yesterday.

Sewers have been laid on Arch st. which will be paved later this summer; as will Wilson st. It was recently graded from Sharp to Pine st.

"For new construction like the work on Liberty, Arch and Wilson, charges are assessed directly to property owners with the city assuming costs if intersection paving," Wilson explained.

The Ramm Construction Co. of Youngstown was awarded the contracts to re-pave old streets and build new Salem streets. Gallagher & O'Horo Construction Co., of the same city, is working under the direction of the Ramm organization to handle the grading program.

Tomorrow residents of W. School, between Fifth and Sixth, can drive on new sealcoating. The coat was to be poured today and only a night is required for the job to harden.

Get Sealcoat Treatment

Other streets receiving the sealcoat treatment are:

Park, from E. State to Maple; Park drive, from E. State to Pershing; E. Pershing, from Ohio to Washington; E. Pershing, from S. Union to Fair; Oak, from Park to Fair; Summit, from S. Lincoln to Franklin; N. Howard, from Fifth to W. Seventh; E. Ninth, from N. Lincoln to N. Union; E. Third, from Highland to Brooklyn; and Jennings, from Seventh to the city limits.

Director Wilson said the street construction program is scheduled to continue through fall months to the time when winter weather stops the workers.

Alger Hiss Identifies His Accuser

Alger Hiss (standing at extreme right), former government official accused of belonging to an "elite" Communist underground, faces his accuser, Whitaker Chambers (left, indicated by arrow), a senior editor of Time magazine, at a public hearing of the House Un-American Activities Committee. In center, pointing at Chambers, is Robert Stripling, chief counsel for the committee. Although both Hiss and Chambers were warned that one of them would be tried for perjury, each stuck by his own version of their acquaintanceship.

World Peace Spiritual
Problem, Friends Told

The basic problem of world peace is a spiritual one, speakers pointed out at the second day's session of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends yesterday in neighboring Damascus.

The speakers were Canby Jones of Philadelphia and W. E. Langdon of Columbus.

In making its report on peace, the Friends committee declared:

"Again military conscription as a dark cloud has descended upon our nation. We are made to realize that the basic problem is a spiritual one and that only as men and nations are brought into a proper relationship with God will peaceful relations be established between men and nations of the earth."

The committee further expressed its belief that "our peace convictions should grow out of a personal relationship with Christ and our acceptance of His teachings as found in the Sermon on the Mount."

8 4-H Club Girls
In Fair Contests

Eight 4-H club members, who were selected to represent Columbiana county in state-wide competitions at the Ohio state fair, will leave Monday for Columbus.

Mrs. Myrtle Troutwine, home demonstration agent, is to accompany the group.

Four girls are scheduled to appear in the style review Tuesday morning. June Kioetaly of R. D. 3, Salem, a member of the Stitches and Chatter club, will model in the school dress classification.

In the dress-up dress review will be Leona Azdell, R. D. 2, East Liverpool, of the Calcutta Busy Girls. Donna J. Smith, R. D. 2, East Liverpool, is to compete in the complete costume for college girls while Betty Driscoll, R. D. 3, Salem, of the Highland Busybody club, will appear in the complete costume for high school girls.

The demonstrations are to be held Tuesday afternoon with the Columbiana county 4-H being represented in a team demonstration by Julie Reese and Isabel Pittscombs, members of the Calcutta Busy Girls. Their demonstration is "Becoming Hair Styles, Lines and Colors."

Mary Lou Webster, 15, of East Rochester, and Edward Redpath, 17, of R. D. 1, Columbiana, judged the healthiest boy and girl in the county will compete for state honors on Wednesday morning at the fair.

Closing The Consulates

The Russian order to close the United States consulate in Vladivostok isn't a development of great importance. The consulate has had little to do. Its activities were circumscribed and its normal task of collecting trade statistics must have been unrewarding.

By closing their New York and San Francisco consulates, the Russians will be greater losers. Russian government representatives in this country have been assiduous information gatherers and enthusiastic proselytizers for Communism. They have taken advantage of the freedom granted to all in the United States. The number of Russian government representatives has been vastly out of proportion to the number of United States representatives in Russia.

This isn't the first time the United States has had consulate trouble. In the summer of 1940, the house un-American activities committee received evidence that German and Italian consular officials were carrying on propaganda activities. No action came until a year later when the State department ordered the consulates closed. The Axis countries retaliated.

By its very nature, the work of any nation's consular and diplomatic representatives sometimes comes close to espionage. In view of the present state of Russian-American relations, the United States will be better off without official beachheads for the Kremlin in New York and San Francisco.

World Trade Declines

The United Nations global economic section notes a steady decline in international trade, despite a sharp rise in world production.

As an indication of the world's falling economic health, it discloses that, while industrial output is up 35 percent over 1938, the volume of goods in world trade is 7 percent less than in 1938.

In normal times, a country that produces a surplus is able to export it and take foreign credits in exchange. With these credits it buys the surpluses of other lands. The present trouble is that few countries are in the market for exports because they lack the exchange with which to buy them. Surpluses are becoming a drug on the markets of producing countries.

One of the lesser-known features of the Marshall plan is an international currency pool to encourage European trade. Unfortunately, the participants have been unable to agree on the ratio at which they will contribute to the pool, so while the idea looks fine on paper, it hasn't been put in operation.

The impoverishment of many countries during and after World War I has set up a condition of trade inertia that has been only temporarily alleviated from time to time by American dollars in the form of loans or gifts. But the dollars come home and the situation is as before.

Tariff barriers have been one of the causes of this situation, as have the dislocations of two world wars, with their attendant animosities and internal disruptions.

The South's Political Plight

This year's presidential campaign will see the Democratic candidate barnstorming in the south, a phenomenon rarer than a lunar rainbow.

For the first time since the reconstruction, the Democratic candidate finds real hostility in the South, yet that hostility will be of no avail if it dissipates itself in the Thurmond Dixiecrat ticket. There isn't a chance in a thousand that the southern rebels could force the election into the house, or that if it did get there Thurmond would be elected.

Where can the South go if not to the Democrats or the Dixiecrats? The Savannah Morning News observes: "The political doors of opportunity are open—and the best one we discern has written over it 'Grand Old Party'." The fact that such a thought finds its way into print is almost revolutionary.

The Republican platform endorses the proposed Lodge amendment which would abolish the electoral college unit rule and give each state electors in proportion to the popular vote. The Democrats passed over the lodge plan, for it would free the south from political thralldom.

While there are some who have serious reservations about the Lodge amendment, it certainly would encourage bipartisanship in the south, which now finds itself impotent and futilely raging against the party it supported for years. The South would be better off politically if it got over its historical prejudices.

The Orient's New Nations

Cartographers have made many changes on maps of the Far East since the war's end.

The first postwar nation in the Orient took form three years ago when the Indonesian republic was born in violence. There have been uneasy truces, frequent clashes with the Dutch, deadlocks with the U. N. committee, and internal dissension. The new republic will have full independence by next Jan. 1.

Two years ago the Philippines became a republic. Already trained in self-government, the Filipinos are doing well for themselves.

This month India and Pakistan observed their first anniversaries as independent states. There has been violence; recalcitrant states have been unwilling to join either country; administrative difficulties have been enormous. Yet both states seem to be ironing out their troubles.

The newest independent states in the Orient are Korea and Burma. Both are having trouble with Communists. Neither has had much experience with democratic ways. It is too early for a prognosis on their eventual fate.

What will be the status of these countries 25 years hence? After World War I, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia took shape as independent entities. Today the map still shows their boundaries, but they have no more standing than any country that has been a puppet state.

The Spaatz Report

The final report of Gen. Spaatz as air force chief of staff is the first such accounting of stewardship to be submitted. Gen. Spaatz was the first air force chief of staff within the new department of defense, which grants the fliers equal status with the Army and the Navy.

The air force entered its postwar phase under Gen. Spaatz' leadership. The jet-propelled plane reached a new high point in development. Such a plant exceeded the speed of sound for the first time. Important steps have been taken in the development of guided missiles capable of crossing oceans, a weapon Gen. Spaatz says the United States must be the first to have.

For all the problems confronted during Gen. Spaatz' tenure, more new ones are left to his successor. Aviation progress breeds complexities, both mechanical and strategic. The place of the piston-powered plane in the fighting force of the future; the role of the B-50 and atomic weapons, and the air force's role in the new defense establishment—these are some of the problems Gen. Spaatz faced. They also are his bequests to his successor.

WHILE there is sign of a congestion, postponement or other impediment, seeming to prove tenacious and disheartening, a condition that might be attributable to the withdrawal of support from prominent places, the situation is not hopeless. There is a very encouraging aspect in which an adroit and gracious use of the factors of youth, charm, wit, perhaps social prestige may break down obstacles. Adjustments may be made, aided and abetted by patience and application.

Those whose birthday it is, may be able to batter down opposition, stagnation or lack of cooperation, by a tactful and judicious manipulation of the purely personal element. If social, cultural, youthful or mental strategies it might be possible to melt staid situations and reap the promised assistance. Social gestures, entertainment, or just pleasant approach could "move mountains" in a dilemma.

A child born on this day may gain much headway against lagging or thwarted interests by a tactful and judicious manipulation of personality, charm, or cultural graces.

Bumper Corn Crop Results In First Price Reductions

(By United Press)

The bumper 1948 corn crop maturing in fields throughout the mid-east had its first effect on prices today.

The A. E. Staley Mfg. Co. reduced prices 35 cents a hundred pounds on bulk starch and syrups. Company officials said the price reduction resulted directly from a break in cash corn prices last weekend when the bumper crop was assured.

The company, which processes corn and soybean products at its Decatur, Ill., plant, said it probably would cut prices further "when the presently indicated new corn prices materialize."

Many experts in the nation's food industries have predicted that this year's big crop eventually will tend to shove prices—particularly on meat—downward.

Most of them, however, believe that it will not have a material effect on the family budget until next spring.

Market experts at Chicago, meanwhile, predicted that the current heat wave blanketing most of the country would have a tendency to reduce meat prices.

They reasoned that people eat less meat during hot weather and favor lighter foods such as salads, cold cuts and fruit. The lighter demand would tend to pile up backlogs in wholesale coolers and market men would be forced to cut prices somewhat to move their stocks.

Boyles COLUMN

BY ARTHUR EDSON

(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON—A congressman's lot is not a happy one.

Oh, it looks nice enough, on paper. Salary, $12,500 a year. Expense money, $2,500, tax free. More expense money for hired help. More for stationery. More for travel allowance.

Then it must be fun going home, the big frog in the local political puddle.

But after talking with congressmen on this subject, I have reached this conclusion:

The senate? Well, if you insist. That job lasts for six years.

The house? Sorry. I've already taken a job as a plumber's helper's helper.

All 435 representatives must be elected this fall. The competition, in most districts, has been intense.

"Why?"

The alleged lucky fellow who gets the election has the job for only two years. How would you like to have your job open to all comers every two years?

How would you like to have to campaign—an expensive operation—over a congressional district in an attempt to prove that you're still the logical man, that you should keep the job?

How would you like the decision to rest, finally, on many people who will vote against you, not because you are unfit, but because of prejudice, or because of ignorance?

On the other hand, it isn't flattering to know that many who voted for you didn't do so because they thought you were fit, but because of prejudice, or because of ignorance.

But you get the job. Here are some expenses you may have overlooked:

For appearance's sake, it's best to keep your house in the home district. You'll have to keep another place here, of course, and places in Washington are hard to find and expensive.

Those wonderful speeches you'll make. You'll want the voters to have copies of them. So you'll have them printed, at your expense.

Good people from back home will drop in to see you daily. You are no cheapskate. So you'll take them to dinner—and pick up the check.

You'll kick in generously to your party's campaign fund.

All right. You won't get rich, but you make the grade. You satisfy your voters, or at least 51 percent of them. You stay on.

But it probably will be years, with 434 equally ambitious representatives around, before you have much influence.

And it definitely will be years, since congress used the seniority system, before you head any important committee.

When you're about to become a big shot, what happens?

You're a Republican, and there's a Democratic landslide. Or vice versa. Out you go.

I talked about this once with Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.), a congressman for 18 years.

He recited the drawbacks, and added:

"The worst of it is, you're forever criticized, criticized, criticized. I really can't figure out why anyone wants this job. I guess it just gets in your blood."

It must at that. For Short, like most of his colleagues, is campaigning for re-election like all get out.

That's why I think I'll stay clear of politics. If I must have a habit, I'll get one easier to break. Like opium or heroin.

Public X-Ray Service

At Fair Is Planned

LISBON, Aug. 26—The Columbiana County Public Health league will sponsor a free X-ray survey at the county fair this year.

The Trumbull county portable X-ray unit will be parked on the fairgrounds. It will be the first time such a survey has been held in connection with the fair.

The service will be available to anyone. The last X-ray survey in the county was held in June in industrial plants.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

"Stenographer's Shoulder" Disorder

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

It is a well-known fact that certain occupations are accompanied by definite health hazards. Office workers are usually immune to these but there is one disorder which might be called "stenographer's shoulder" because it occurs so frequently in typists, though it also afflicts others—hairdressers and machinists among them—who work with the arm in similar positions.

Apparently, movements of the arms necessary to these occupations cause friction of a tendon near the shoulder joint with a consequent cutting down of its blood supply. This in turn results in a deposit of calcium salts along the tendon.

Shoulder Area

This in itself will usually cause no symptom, but if an injury brings about inflammation of the tendon, severe pain and limitation of movement will occur. These symptoms may be preceded by minor aches and pain in the shoulder area. The pain may extend over the entire length of the arm and even into the fingers.

If the acute condition is not treated, a long-continuing or chronic disorder develops. In the latter instance, there is pain in the shoulder and tenderness over the area in which the lime salts are deposited. Later, the whole shoulder area becomes sensitive and the pain may pass upward into the neck and down into the hand. Certain movements of the shoulder are limited, and there may be a hitch when raising or lowering the arm. When the arm is moved as far as possible away from the body, the tenderness disappears. The calcium deposits can usually be seen in an X-ray photograph film.

When an acute attack of this nature occurs, it has been suggested that an injection into the area of a local anesthetic or pain-deadening preparation should be carried out. Thereafter there should be immediate and continuous movement of the shoulder to increase the circulation and speed up the absorption of the calcium.

During the giving of this injection, the calcium deposit may be punctured from seven to ten times and the anesthesia solution is injected into the deposits. The pain disappears and muscular activity returns in from ten to thirty minutes after the injection is given. The patient is taught shoulder exercise which he carries out.

Pain Recurs

After a few hours the pain recurs and, in fact, may be more severe than before. However, the muscular stiffness may be less. At this time, the patient is given sedatives or quieting drugs, and heat is applied to the shoulder area.

If movements are carried out regularly, the calcium is absorbed within from three to four weeks and complete relief from the symptoms occurs. The severe symptoms usually disappear in about ten days.

If this type of treatment does not bring about a cure, it may be necessary to remove the calcium deposits by operation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R.: When I was young, I had boils. Now I have scars. My skin is wrinkled. Is there anything that can be done for it?

Answer: It is possible that the condition may be relieved by plastic surgery, unless the scarring is quite excessive, in which case it would be advisable to have nothing done.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

SCIENTISTS TRYING TO MAKE GASOLINE LUMPS FOR MILITARY, DOMESTIC USES

By WILLIAM F. McMENAMIN
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 — Ever think of someday driving to the neighborhood filling station and buying a bagful of gasoline lumps for the car?

It's not as fantastic as it sounds. Military scientists are now attempting to perfect a process for the manufacture of solidified gasoline. It can be handled and shoveled like coal. Or it can be made up in big blocks or tiny pellets, strips, ribbons or lumps the size of hen's eggs.

Furthermore, this congealed gasoline won't explode. It won't burn any faster than a lump of coal. It can be stored in open bins and shipped in ordinary freight cars like coal. It is light brown, porous, and jelly-like.

The scientists say it is possible to convert any grade of gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil or any other petroleum product into a semi-solid or even solid state. All this can be done without changing the characteristics of the original fluid. The blocks or chunks then can be converted back into the fluid state under compression.

Has Military Value

This method, of course, has great military value. An airplane carrying solid fuel would not burn rapidly or explode if hit by incendiary bullets would be of tremendous value.

Commercial planes carrying it would be able to eliminate the deadly "crash and burn" characteristics of present aircraft.

Navy ships, trucks and tanks also would be far more able to resist enemy gunfire.

Tests show the congealed gasoline may be stored for extended periods without loss of more than one per cent by evaporation.

Large petroleum stocks could be transported and stored anywhere. It would reduce the need for pipelines.

But there are bugs. The Navy experimented for some time and found it "feasible but expensive." The Air Force said its experiments are continuing. But the product is still not in general use.

The Army said the big difficulty is finding a method of making the product that is not too expensive.

It is not now carrying on experiments. One of the biggest problems is devising a means of converting it from solid to liquid just before injecting it into an engine's combustion chamber.

Student, Sister Make Plane Trip

DAMASCUS, Aug. 26—Harold and Miss Rita Edgerton returned Tuesday from a weekend plane trip to Westchester, Pa. Harold piloted the craft.

The distance of 290 miles each way required three hours traveling above the clouds over the mountains in a two-place Cessna biplane. They were accompanied by Harold's uncle, Virgil Edgerton, southeast of Damascus, with whom they make their home.

They reported an enjoyable trip, a visit with their aunt, Mrs. Lucille Chaney and they attended the Philadelphia-New York ball game in Philadelphia Saturday.

Harold will be a senior in Goshen High school this year and Rita a junior.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eckenrood and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jenkins entertained at a family reunion Sunday, honoring the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eckenrood of San Francisco.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eckenrood of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eckenrood and daughter Arlene, and Mrs. Florence Helwig of Elyria, Mrs. Vern Light-houser of Vermillion, Mr. and Mrs. James Knox of West Austintown, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zimmerman and Mrs. Viola Zimmerman of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ward of Bar-bington, Mrs. Mary Orin and Don Derringer of East Liverpool.

A picnic dinner and supper were served with approximately 25 present.

Couple Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Denny entertained at a party Tuesday evening honoring their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Denny, who were married July 4.

Seventy-five relatives, friends and neighbors were present. They presented the couple a shower of gifts. Lunch was served. Mrs. Eldon Denny was formerly Miss Betty Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, accompanied by Irvin Cubine, Jr., of Martinsville, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Harrington of Berlin Center, spent Tuesday at Chautauqua, N. Y. Miss Eleanor Harrington who spent the summer at Chautauqua, returned home with them.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stroup recently has been named John Allen. Mrs. Stroup and baby returned home from Salem City hospital Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenmeyer of Santa Cruz, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shreve of Alliance called on Miss Ada Marietta Tuesday.

Irvin Cubine, Jr., who is enroute to his home in Martinsville, Va., from Cheyenne, Wyo., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron here, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Harrington of Berlin Center.

Recent Guests
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Royer and daughters Janet and Carolyn and son Richard of Canton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Grise.

Mrs. Clara Blount of Punta Gorda, Fla., is visiting her uncle Charles Pyle and family and other relatives here. Mrs. Blount formerly lived in Salem.

S. W. Donohue of Toledo is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Donohue and family.

Balloons May Aid Cosmic Ray Study

NEW YORK—A series of balloon flights, one of which attained an altitude of about 17 miles, may give science some of the answers to the mysterious cosmic rays that bombard the earth from far out in space.

The balloon experiments, conducted in the Denver, Colo., area were supervised by Dr. Serge Krif, professor of physics, New York university. The balloons, he disclosed, carried special instruments that recorded altitude, wind velocity and direction, temperature and intensity, of cosmic rays.

It may be some months before Dr. Korff's conclusions are determined.

Upon his return to New York, Dr. Korff said that cosmic ray research "will add to the knowledge of nuclear physics and may lead to better weather forecasting."

Now that science has split the atom, nuclear physics are turning their attention to the nucleus of the atom. It has been theorized that cosmic rays may be part of the binding force that holds the atom together.

Couple Are Wed In Church Rites

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Veronica M. Karasewsky, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Karasewsky of the Damascus rd., and Regis J. Donnelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly of Letonia, which was solemnized at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, in St. Paul's Catholic church by Rev. Fr. William Appell, assistant pastor.

Attendees were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Panfilio. Mrs. G. Panfilio is a sister of the bride.

The bride appeared in an aqua suit and used white accessories, while the matron of honor was dressed in blue, augmented with black accessories.

The couple had their wedding dinner in Cleveland.

A graduate of the Letonia High school, Mr. Donnelly is employed by the Mullins Mfg. Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly will reside in Letonia.

Rural Homemakers Club Entertained

Mrs. Samuel Thomas was hostess at an all-day session of the Rural Homemakers club Wednesday at her home, Canfield rd.

Following a luncheon at noon the women were interested in working on sequins.

In the afternoon the hostess celebrated the birthday anniversary of her son, Jimmie, by serving a birthday cake with refreshments.

Members are invited to attend the Achievement program at the First Federated church, North Jackson, Thursday, Sept. 30, which will be featured by a dinner at noon.

On Oct. 27, the members will meet at Dublin grange for the "Home-made Christmas day" observance.

Officers will be elected at the Sept. 22 meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Cobourn, Canfield rd.

Couple Honored At Party In Winona

Miss Margaret Helbig and Maynard Brantingham were honored at a shower party at the home of Mr. Brantingham's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Martin Brantingham, in Winona, Friday evening.

The guests included relatives of Mr. Brantingham from Alliance and Winona.

The couple plan to be married at the St. Ruth's Methodist church on Sept. 2.

Miss Helbig is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Helbig of Youngstown.

Both Miss Helbig and Mr. Brantingham attended Asbury college at Weimore, Ky., the past year.

Miss Helbig, who graduated, will teach this year. Mr. Brantingham will resume his studies at Asbury college.

THIS IS THE CULPRIT

Take a good look at it, hay-fever sufferers. That's the cause of most of your trouble. Magnified 3300 times, that black blot with the sharp points, above, is a ragweed pollen spore. Actually it's only one-half of one-thousandth of an inch across, but it makes a lot of people miserable. The photo of the spore was taken with the Westinghouse Research Laboratories electron microscope in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Ed Snyder Feted At Birthday Event

The 88th birthday of Ed I. Snyder was celebrated recently by relatives and friends at a surprise dinner party in his home on E. Sixth st. The affair, which was arranged by his wife, saw Mr. Snyder well-remembered with gifts and cards. A large birthday cake was cut.

Among the guests were a sister, Mrs. Jennie Gilbert, 87, of South Broadway, and a cousin, Mrs. Rose Howell, 80, of Salem. Mr. Snyder has another sister, Mrs. Margaret Kepner, 90, who commutes between her children who live in Washington, D. C., and St. Louis, Mo., and a brother, Park Snyder, of Atlantic City.

The Snyders spend their summers in Salem, where they have made their home for the past 42 years, but in the winter reside in Miami, Fla. They expect to leave for Miami the last of September.

Before his retirement 24 years ago, Snyder served as probation officer for many years and was a well-known dealer in horses. He operated a livery barn and still has a keen interest in racing horses. He was born and reared in Columbiana where he was postmaster for eight years prior to coming to Salem.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Snyder covered by auto some 10,000 miles of southern United States and they expect to have reached 5,000 miles with their return to Miami this year. Mrs. Snyder does all the driving.

The 88-year-old man is in fair health and whenever possible attends the races. He enjoys football games and finds entertainment on the radio. He is the oldest Elk in the Salem lodge from the standpoint of age.

PENNSY RAILROAD EQUIPMENT GROWS

Ependiture High For Im- provement In Service To Public

Announcement that the Pennsylvania railroad's post-war program for new equipment and equipment improvement has been greatly extended and augmented, and now reaches a total of $216,700,366, was made locally today by President M. W. Clement.

It now constitutes, he said, the largest single project of betterments of any kind ever undertaken in the railroad's 102 years of history.

Now included in the program are 566 new Diesel electric locomotives; 395 new lightweight all-room sleeping cars, overnight coaches, twin-unit and single diners and lounge and other feature cars; 273 coaches, parlor, dining and feature cars being completely modernized; 4,400 new freight cars and 8,149 others undergoing extensive heavy repairs and reconstruction.

The outlay on this post-war equipment program, Clement pointed out, will be over 40 per cent more than it cost to electrify the railroad's eastern lines from New York to Washington and from Philadelphia to Harrisburg, Pa. It will also represent more than the government paid for such gigantic public works as the Alaska highway or Boulder dam.

The current program, it was stated, was started as soon as government wartime restrictions on building passenger equipment were lifted, and has since been progressively expanded.

Diesel-Powered

So far the railroad has received 68 new Diesel road locomotives (41 passenger and 27 freight), 156 Diesel switchers, 113 new lightweight passenger coaches and about 2,200 new freight cars, including extra length box cars with load-securing devices for heavier loading of merchandise and protection from breakage.

All principal trains of the east-west passenger fleet in the non-electric territory west of Harrisburg are now Diesel-powered. The all-reserved-seat-coach trains — the Trail Blazer between New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, and the Jeffersonian between New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis — have been virtually re-equipped from end to end.

The new type overnight coaches also are on the Liberty Limited, between Washington, Baltimore and Chicago and on a number of other important long distance trains.

These new coaches are five feet longer than the type designed just before the war, but seat 12 fewer passengers. This provides more leg room, an important comfort factor in overnight coach travel. Far more spacious men's and women's lounges, with increased appointments, also have been provided.

The new sleeping cars will be of the all-room type, with no open berths, and with accommodations ranging from roomettes to master bedrooms.

John Cabot discovered Newfoundland five years after Columbus made his first voyage to the West Indies.

Now She Shops: "Cash and Carry"

• Without Painful Backache

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

One-Family Invasion Of Eire Soon Reality

CHICAGO—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roycroft and their 13 children are ready for a mass pilgrimage to the little town in Ireland where the elder Roycrofts were born.

Travel experts estimated that the family would require a drawing room, two compartments and two double bedrooms to get to New York. Three cabs should get them to the pier where they will occupy two cabins. None of this includes the hand baggage, five trunks and two bicycles that the Roycrofts are taking with them.

Roycroft, a utility company foreman, has saved $5,000 for the trip.

California Could Save Two-Thirds Wood Waste

SAN FRANCISCO — Commercial uses are being sought for the wasted two-thirds of California's present lumber crop. Myron E. Kreuger, professor of forestry at the University of California, is heading the campaign.

Many specimens of hardwoods such as oak, could be used for veneering instead of firewood, Kreuger said. Other woods may be usable for pulp, woodflour, insulating or fruit-packing material.

New facilities for research, including a new forestry building, will be available at the university soon.

Australia To Expand Its Boystown Project

SYDNEY, Australia—The amazing success of Boystown in Sydney has inspired its founder, Father Dundee, to play similar towns in every Australian state.

The Sydney venture, which recently celebrated its ninth anniversary, followed the lines of the original Boystown established by Father Flanagan in Omaha, Neb.

Father Dundee opened his first town in a garage in a suburb of Sydney in 1939. When more boys arrived, he moved into a cottage and later went under canvas for six months. Today it has buildings worth £60,000 ($200,000), including a memorial to the 100 boys who served in World War II.

Boystown is open to boys of all religions. Of the more than 1,000 boys who have passed under his guidance, not one has been a failure, according to Father Dundee.

23 INJURED IN BUS ACCIDENT

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Aug. 26—Twenty-three persons were hurt—three seriously—late last night when a west-bound Greyhound bus hit the rear of a large semi-truck and trailer 18 miles east of here.

The state highway patrol reported that the truck, driven by Gerald L. Gibbs of Dresher, Pa., had been parked and had just gotten under way in the right hand lane of U. S. 40 on the edge of the Licking county village of Wagram.

The bus, driven by Harold O. Linscott of Columbus and bound from Pittsburgh to Columbus, carried 32 passengers. Linscott and ten of the passengers escaped injuries, but Gibbs and 22 passengers were hurt.

Eleven of the injured were taken to Grant hospital here, four to St. Francis hospital, and seven to White Cross hospital. Most of them were released after emergency treatment for cuts, bruises and shock.

The seriously injured were Charles Anderko, 47, of Washington, Pa., who suffered a compound leg fracture; Mrs. J. H. Bass, 68, of Fort Smith, Ark., who was reported suffering from shock; and Mrs. Ellen West, 49, of San Marino, Calif., who sustained head and chest injuries.

Gives Profit Checks

AKRON, Aug. 26—The Quaker Oats Co. will here have distributed profit-sharing checks totaling $168,979 to 918 employees. The 13th annual "melon cutting" added an average of about $184 to each employee's regular earnings during Quaker's recently-ended business year.

U. S. Puts Trade Mark On Relief Packages

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—The Stars and Stripes will be emblazoned on all future shipments of goods from the U. S. to Marshall plan countries.
ECA Chief Paul G. Hoffman said that the emblem is intended to "afford a means of following the goods and checking their end use."
On each consignment will be this message: "For European Recovery; Supplied by the United States of America."

G-M WORKERS GET 3-CENT WAGE RAISE

DETROIT, Aug. 26—An additional three cents an hour goes into the pay envelope of 265,000 General Motors Corp. workers Sept. 1, because of the rising cost of living.

The wage increase results from announcement by the Bureau of Labor statistics that its consumers' price index reached an all-time high on July 15.

Under an agreement reached with CIO employees last spring, GM hiked its wages to the price index. The contract provides one cent an hour extra for every 1.14 point the BLS figure rises from a base of 169.3.

Behind In Rent, Vets Face Homes Eviction

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 26—Fifteen tenants in Youngstown's 200-unit veterans housing project face possible eviction for non-payment of rent ranging from two months to six months, city officials said today.
The tenants are being given three days to pay up.

NEW FLUORESCENT LAMP IS HAILED

(By Associated Press)
BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Aug. 26—A new fluorescent 25-watt lamp, equipped with the rare gas krypton, has been developed by Westinghouse Electric Corp. Engineers who hail it as a boon to the housewife.
The new lamp, Westinghouse says, produces more than five times as much light as an incandescent light bulb of equal wattage.

It is the first time that a 25-watt tube has been offered in fluorescent lamps, the company added.
Ralph R. Grady, manager of commercial engineering for the Westinghouse lamp division, predicts wide use for the new lamp in the home as well as in stores, offices and industries.

It can bring 50 per cent more light into the kitchen than a 20-watt fluorescent lamp for only 25 per cent more electricity, he said.

The new lamp operates on both alternating and direct current circuits and uses low-cost auxiliaries, the company said.

The lamp's increased efficiency was credited to the use of krypton sealed inside the lamp instead of argon gas, which Westinghouse uses in all other fluorescent lamps except its 85-watt krypton type.

Plums Scattered In Leetonia Wreck

LEETONIA, Aug. 26—There will be fewer plum pies and glasses of plum jelly in the Leetonia area because a truck carrying 90 pecks of this fruit was hit early this week and plums were scattered over half a block on Columbia st.

Eleanor Whitacre of 613 Columbia st., driver of the truck, was unhurt.

Ralph VanFossan, passenger in a car driven by Vernon E. Matthews, both of R. D. 2, Leetonia, sustained slight scalp injuries in another accident. Matthews was charged with reckless driving and fined $18.70, according to Leetonia police.

Cars of Dale A. McQuiston of Washingtonville and Charles Hall of 150 Cherry st., Leetonia, were damaged on Main st.

Youth Pleads Guilty

CANTON, Aug. 26—Jack Raymond Corkran, 19-year-old backer of Henry A. Wallace for president, yesterday pleaded guilty to charges of illegal registration and voting in the May 4 primaries. Corkran, a delegate to the Progressive party convention in Philadelphia, immediately requested probation. Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham took the case under consideration.

Men Under 26 To Sign For Draft

You may have to register for the draft next Monday. How do you tell?

Very simple: If you were born in 1922, after August 30, then you have to register on August 30. Why? Because you won't yet be 26 years old. You go to your nearest registration center (this will not necessarily be located at a draft board office). You don't have to take anything special with you, like a birth certificate.

All you do is fill out a simple form, giving eight or nine facts about yourself... height, weight, color of eyes, full name, address, veterans' status, etc. If your registration center is as efficient as it should be, this will take you only 10 to 15 minutes.

What if you can't get to your registration center? Maybe you'll be sick or far away from home.

If you are away from home, just go to any registration center and fill out your card. It will be sent to your own local draft board. That's important to remember—you do not have to register at your local registration center but can do it anywhere in the country—or in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands.

If you are sick or physically unable to register don't worry. That will only make you sicker. Just let your draft board know the facts and explain you'll register as soon as it's physically possible for you to do so. But at the same time don't get the idea you can avoid registering indefinitely. Try that and Justice department agents, meaning the FBI, will make it hot for you.

What happens after registration? You go back home and wait for a letter from your draft board. It will arrive in a week or ten days, but don't be alarmed. It won't be a Presidential greeting.

It'll be just a questionnaire, but a very curious questionnaire. It will ask more questions about you than a tiger has spots.

Read it carefully and answer the questions fully—and honestly. Return it to your draft board within 10 days.

That form will determine whether you get drafted. It will contain the information which will allow your draft board to decide whether you rate deferment or exemption or whatever.

That's a rough, broad outline of what to expect. There can always be changes. Now back to registration. If you were born in 1922 you know when to register.

If you were born in 1923, register Aug. 31 or Sept. 1.

If born in 1924, register Sept. 2 or 3.

If born in 1925, register Sept. 4 or 7; if 1926, register Sept. 8 or 9; if 1927, register Sept. 10 or 11; if 1928, register Sept. 13 or 14; if 1929, Sept. 15 or 16.

If born in 1930, before Sept. 19,

LITTLE BIG GAME HUNTER RETURNS

ONLY 12 and a big game hunter already, Elaine Monesmith waves from plane steps on arrival in the U. S. after an expedition to the Congo. The Dayton, O., girl's bag: two elephants, two rhinoceroses, two hippopotamuses, a buffalo, several cat family jungle beasts. With her is her father, James Monesmith. (International) register Sept. 17 or 18. That will be for the boys who have just turned 18.

If you aren't 18 by Sept. 19, then you must register on your 18th birthday—or within five days thereafter. But you won't be drafted till you get to be 19.

And you can't be drafted once you hit 26.

'Temperance Tornado' Sweeps Kansas Trying To Keep Sunflower State Dry

BY EDWIN HOFFMAN

KANSAS CITY, Kans.—"Cigarettes 'n' whiskey" are being swept up into a typical Kansas storm. A "Temperance Tornado," off on a 1500-mile swath through the Sunflower State hopes to stop repeal of Kansas' 67-year-old prohibition law at the polls on November 7 with a show of old-time appeals against John Barleycorn.

The "Tornado," a caravan of 25 trucks and cars, is headed by Willard Mayberry, bull-voiced Elkhart, Kans., publisher, who organized the troop of modern Carrie Nations—minus hatchets.

Starting from Dodge City, in the southwestern corner of the state, where saloons once helped quench the drouth, the bone-dryers are cursing the evils of the state's legal 3.2 beer clear to Kansas City, Kans., where they hope to "smash liquor back across the Missouri River, where it belongs."

The troop of 90, led by a 45-piece band of high school and college musicians, includes youngsters of seven and oldsters like retired farmers John Yust, 91, of Dodge City, Yust, now with flowing white beard, voted for Kansas constitutional prohibition in 1880 when it was ratified.

"I'll vote for it again in November," he says.

Mayberry received some $6000 in contributions from western Kansas sympathizers, but members of the caravan planned to sleep on church and school lawns and bathe in swimming pools.

One of the chief attractions at the water-drinking stands is former Olympic miler runner, Glenn Cunningham, one of Kansas' outstanding athletes.

"Of all the records I've made," says Cunningham, now a farm manager at Emporia, Kans., "the one of which I'm proudest is that I've never smoked, nor have I even tasted Kansas 3.2 beer."

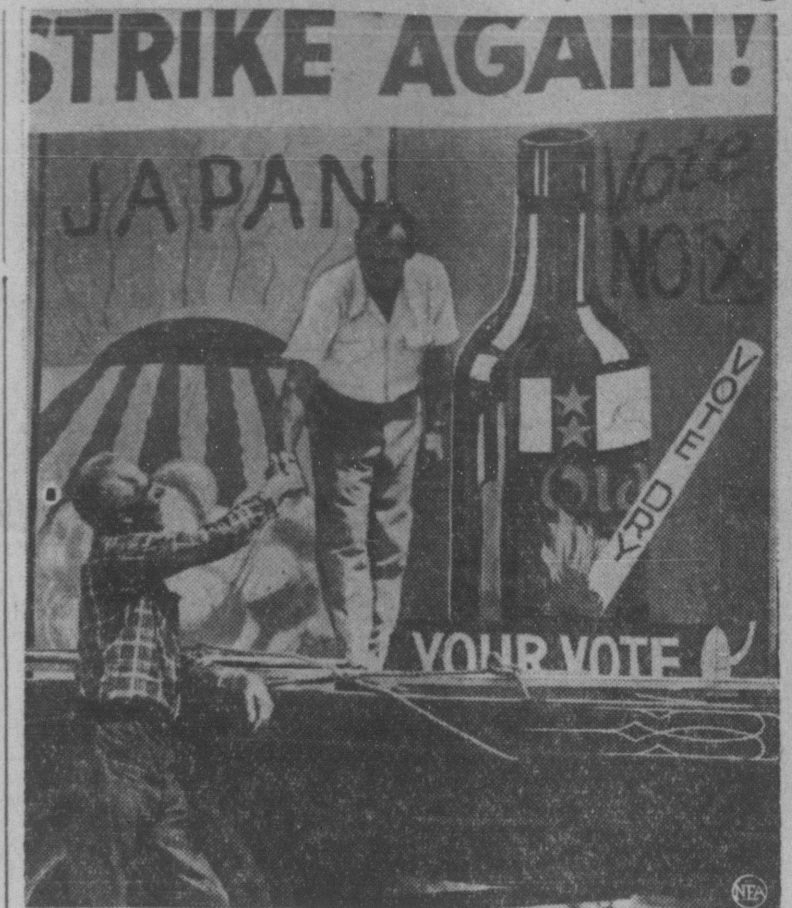

But all Kansans aren't sympathetic. At Lyons, in the western grain country, the Tornado was met with a sign: "The bootleggers of Lyons welcome the Temperance Tornado." It was ripped down by a pair of furious girl band members.

Cunningham lambasted a Kinsley wag who sent a bar boy out with a frosty glass of beer for the husky-voiced ex-runner as he spoke in the hot sun.

"I've never been so insulted in my life," he roared into the microphone of the caravan's loud-speaker system.

"You're getting hoarse—better take a drink," is often thrown at the speakers from the crowd. But a youthful advocate of undiluted water silenced a banterer with: "There's a place for you in hell, bud!"

Although crowds have not been large at the Tornado's stands, the riders, thoroughly serious in their intent, have been able to strike some applause with their memory-

• OBITUARY •

CHARLES HOMER LYLE

Charles Homer Lyle, 73, of 16021 Madison ave., Cleveland, former Salem resident, died of pneumonia and complications at 2:30 a. m. Wednesday in a Fairview Park hospital, Cleveland. He had been ill since Monday.

The son of a prominent Salem physician, the late Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Lyle, he was born near Cincinnati. In 1908 he married Helen Chamberlain, a former public school teacher here, and in 1918 they moved to Cleveland where he was employed as salesman for a printing firm.

Survivors besides his wife are a son, Charles F. Lyle of Manassas, Long Island; a grandson; and three brothers, James M. Lyle of Salem, Eugene Lyle of Alliance and Dr. U. A. Lyle of Indianapolis.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the J. Edward Cochran and Son funeral home at 2327 Holmden ave., Cleveland.

The body will be cremated and brought to Salem later for burial.

DAVID WHITCOMB
David Whitcomb, 69, died of a heart ailment at 1 p. m. Wednesday at his home, Damascus rd., following a year and a half illness.

A son of Charles and Alice Whitcomb he was born in Youngstown, from where he came to Salem.

For 40 years he was a sheet metal worker at the Mullins plant. He was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Besides his wife, Alice, he is survived by one son, Hampton C., of Canton; three grand-children; one sister, Mrs. Lizzie Yates of Salem and four brothers, George, Fred and Walter of Salem and Albert of Alliance.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in charge of Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be made in Hope cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home.

Temperance Talk Heard
"Booze would destroy the church if it could. The church could destroy booze if it would."

Thus spoke Rev. Owen W. Glassburn, of Pomona, N. C., in a stirring temperance talk at the Wednesday afternoon session of the 136th Ohio Yearly meeting of Friends at Damascus. His theme was, "Is There not a Cause?"

"Some say, 'Silence is golden,' but on the liquor subject, 'Silence is yellow,'" he said.

"There is no such thing as a neutral on this subject. You are either for it or against it."

The speaker blamed the indifference of the church for the repeal of the 18th amendment. "The church failed to finish the job," according to Rev. Glassburn. "The church is too passive on the liquor traffic."

"Too many churches are like the donkey who starved to death between two stacks of hay, because he couldn't decide which one to eat from. Don't be a donkey," he admonished.

Rev. Glassburn expressed the hope that God would raise up a man with backbone to captain righteous men in a fight against this national foe.

Carnegie Open Hearths Shut Down By Dispute
YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 26—All 15 open hearths at the Ohio works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. here were idle today as a result of a work stoppage which began at midnight last night.

Company officials said the issue is one of seniority. Union officials said they will issue a statement late today following a meeting.

Some 650 employees are idle as a result of the work stoppage. The Ohio works' 15 open hearths produce a little more than 4,000 tons of steel daily.

Bullet Removed From Heart of Boy, Aged 13
MANSFIELD, Aug. 26—A bullet was removed from the heart of 13-year-old Ronald Lofland yesterday.

The delicate operation was performed by Dr. William Meffley of Toledo, assisted by three staff physicians at the Willard hospital. It followed shortly after the boy, whose home is in nearby Plymouth, was shot accidentally when a playmate tripped over a rifle.

Hospital attendants reported Ronald's condition was "as good as can be expected," and said the success of the operation could not be determined for 72 hours.

Considerate Husband Leaves His Wife Behind
YARMOUTH, Me.—A New Jersey motorist drove into a gasoline station here late at night and whispered to the attendant, "Fill her up, please."

He spoke softly so as not to awaken his sleeping wife and two children in the back seat.

After stretching his legs, he paid for the gas and drove off, not noticing that his wife had left the automobile and gone into the station.

Two hours later state police, notified by the attendant, halted the driver at Brunswick, about 30 miles from Portland, and told him to go back for his wife.

12 New Polio Cases Reported In Counties

COLUMBUS, Aug. 26—The State Health department reported 12 new polio cases today, bringing the total in Ohio for 1948 to 440. There were 152 cases recorded over a similar period last year.

The bureau of vital statistics reported seven deaths from polio occurred in the state during the first five months of this year. Three cases were recorded during a comparable period last year. Four new cases were reported in Cuyahoga county, two each in Clark and Hancock counties, and one each in Allen, Summit, Athens and Lorain counties.

Kerosene Kills Child
PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 26—Eleven-month-old Darrell Smith died yesterday after drinking kerosene from a tin can placed on a rear porch. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

COLUMBIANA PLANS FOR STREET FAIR

Traffic Police Are Sought For Event Scheduled Sept. 9-11

Firestone Legion post is still in need of volunteers to help direct traffic during the annual street fair and homecoming, Sept. 9-11.

Main st. will be closed, with approval of the state highway department, from Railroad st. to the public square, and detoured Route 7 traffic will follow Railroad and Vine streets and West Park ave. to the square.

The route will be policed continuously, day and night, during the fair. Volunteers for this duty are asked to report to Marcus Hum or Richard Wenderoth.

At its meeting Monday evening, the post gave consideration to the frequent use of its hall on N. Pearl st. by other organizations, and made provision for reservations.

Commander Herbert Souder reported that the board of trustees had decided to place the matter of reservations in the hands of the new custodians of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kibler. Their phone is 2233.

Commander Souder also reported on the meeting of the Legion County council, held in Leontia last Friday evening, and Norman Prentner, Sr., and Marcus Hum on the state convention at Columbus.

Relief Worker Speaks
Howard Blosser, who spent two years in European relief work under UNRA in Italy in 1946 and under the Mennonite church in Hungary in 1947, related his experiences to the Rotary club, Monday evening, illustrating his talk with colored slides. In Hungary, his work was mostly distribution of clothing among Jewish refugees. He related incidents of life behind the iron curtain in Hungary and said relief agencies have all recently been ordered out of Hungary. Elmer Detwiler, Jr., was program chairman.

William Rogers of New Castle was a guest of Walter McCaughy and Allen Heston of Akron, a guest of Paul Ross of the National Rubber Machinery Co.

The program next week will be in charge of the Rotary service committee, Paul Reeves, chairman.

President Marion Poulton of the Kiwanis club read a letter at its meeting Monday evening commending Secretary William Furney on his report of its activities for July.

C. B. Clapp was honored with a birthday cake in recognition of his 72nd anniversary. Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist church was a guest of Mr. L. H. Nelson.

The Friendship class of the Methodist church will observe family night at 6:30 Thursday evening with a covered supper in Pavilion No. 1, Firestone park.

York Drexler post, VFW, is sponsoring a free public dance Wednesday evening from 9 to 12, at Oakdale Gardens, east of town, on Route 14.

Clippers aerie, F.O.E. of Columbiana, will hold a picnic Sunday at Mill Pic park, near New Waterford. Mrs. Myrtle Troutwine, Columbiana county home demonstration agent, will be at the meeting at 1:30 Thursday afternoon of the Gay S.-S.-S.-S. 4-H club to judge their projects. The meeting will be in the home economics room of the High school building.

The August meeting of the L.L. class of the Presbyterian church Friday at 8 p. m., will be the annual corn roast at No. 1 open pavilion near the Herbert st. entrance to Firestone park. Members are asked to take their own table service.

Seeks Action Stopping Gaming Den Reopenings

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—District Attorney William S. Rahauer disclosed today he will seek padlock action to prevent reopening of 60 gambling establishments here.

The first 14 of his series of padlock petitions will be presented in county court tomorrow, Rahauer said. Sumpenas for the property owners involved were prepared over the weekend.

Meanwhile assistant district attorneys prepared a new list of about 40 witnesses for the grand jury investigating racket charges.

EAST GOSHEN

W. G. Shewell was honored at the home of her son, Carl Shewell, and family, in observance of his 81st birthday anniversary, Tuesday. His niece, Mrs. Phil Crane of Sebring, was his guest during the day and Mr. Phil Crane of Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Oswald and children and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schroeder and son of Alliance and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crewson of Sebring called in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers, Mrs. Mary Myers and Mrs. Carl Shewell and daughter attended the Cobbs-Stanley reunion Saturday at Silver park.

Mrs. Leonard Spencer of Ellsworth spent Monday with her parents.

LEGAL NOTICE

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Public Affairs of the Village of Leetonia, Ohio, at their office in City Building, until 12:00 noon, Eastern Daylight Savings Time of Monday, September 13th, 1943, at which time and place said bids will be opened and publicly read aloud on the following:—

For the placing of approximately one thousand (1,000) feet of 8" water main. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Board of Public Affairs City Hall, Leetonia, Ohio. The Village reserves the right to increase or decrease all quantities.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Board of Public Affairs, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

If any bid is rejected, such check will be returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Board of Public Affairs, Leetonia, Ohio.
Published in Salem News August 26 and September 2nd, 1943.

THE STORY: A mysterious locked room on the top floor of Nuns Farthing, a rented country house, fascinates dreamy 17-year-old Sabrina. Father and Aunt Effie tell her the room belongs to one of the owner's sons and they are not to have the use of it. Sabrina questions Mrs. Pliton, the housekeeper, who says the room is always kept locked when "he" is not at home. Curiously overpowers Sabrina and one rainy day she manages to pick the lock. The knob turns, the door opens, and she steps inside.

Sabrina, Father and Aunt Effie first arrived at Nuns Farthing in March. A damp, chilly wind was blowing off the hills.

It was not a lovely house, at Sabrina's first sight of it, standing gaunt and gray against a barren hillside in the chill early twilight of that March day. Nothing much had been done about the garden, though a few bulbs seemed to be coming up. It was hardly late enough for lights, and the many casement windows watched them blankly as they came round the curve of the drive.

The housekeeper opened the door to them, and remarked that the fires never drew right in that wind. They switched on the electric light and walked about in a somewhat smoky atmosphere with their coats still on, looking hopefully into the strange rooms which enigmatically awaited their scrutiny; comfortably furnished rooms, clothed in chintz and good velvet, well lighted and uncluttered with cast-off belongings of the family. Bella sniffed and scabbled in the corners, and Aunt Effie said it really wasn't bad, and Sabrina—Sabrina shook and shivered like a little racehorse at the post as she crossed the threshold.

Home.

A spacious hall, with a wide oak staircase rising from its middle. Paneled walls, rather gloomy. Two big drawing-rooms, one opening into the garden, and a library which was already Father's own exclusive sacred den. A long dining-room opening off the back of the hall, with family portraits and a cold white marble mantelpiece. The kitchens and so forth lay beyond it. Upstairs, a central passage with rooms off either side. Nine bedrooms. Aunt Effie, popping open doors, muttering busily to herself, efficiently questioning the housekeeper, while Bella pattered at her heels, gave Sabrina her choice of two. The first one had blue-and-white flowered wallpaper and chintzes, a window seat with a long view down the garden in blue twilight, a four-poster bed with chintz hangings—Sabrina drew a long sigh and pulled off her hat and tossed it into the armchair beside the dressing-table. "This is it," she said simply, and for some childish reason she could not understand there was a lump in her throat and she wanted to cry. "Well, just as you like it, dear—Jennie will bring your bag in a few minutes. Jennie is the housemaid," said Aunt Effie, and bustled away.

SABRINA walked over and pulled the chain of the bedside lamp, which cast an amber glow across the plump bolster. A book lay on the little table beneath it—just a novel, not very new, but suitable for reading in bed, as though the room had been expecting her. There were more books in built-in shelves beyond the bed. There was a writing-table, stocked with notepaper and pens and ink. Blue glass toilet things. . . Her room. Waiting for her. With a coal grate, and everything laid ready for the match. Her own coal fire in her own room. . . Aunt Effie put her head in at the open door.

"You and I will use the bathroom at the end of the passage," she said. "Opposite the upper stairs. Father can have the one next door to the big bedroom, all to himself. That will save trouble," she added darkly. "I'll be just across from you, in the green room."

Come, Bella, we'll find a place for your basket, now." She vanished again.

It was when she went along the passage to look up the bathroom that Sabrina first noticed the other flight of stairs with that locked door at the top, and was caught peeking. The house, in its spaciousness and dignity and the simple comfort of its furnishings—what Aunt Effie called good value—was perfect in Sabrina's eyes. The exaltation of arrival was subsiding gently into a sense of deep satisfaction, and a healthy fatigue. But the riddle of the locked room was the finishing touch. And the room was actually mentioned in the lease as not being available for use by any possible tenants.

It was not until several weeks had passed that Sabrina began not to be able to stop thinking about the room all day long.

She made a pretext for hunting up Mrs. Pliton, the housekeeper, and then lingered in the passage outside the kitchen.

"By the way," said Sabrina, elaborately casual, "have you got a key to that room—the one that's locked?"

"I have," said Mrs. Pliton. "Could I see it some time—the room, I mean?"

"There's nothing much to see," said Mrs. Pliton. "He's got his books there, mostly—and the sort of odds and ends a man collects."

"Books?" Sabrina's interest quickened.

"He's a great one to read," admitted Mrs. Pliton.

"So am I," Sabrina informed her eagerly. "I'd like to see his books some time."

"I'm afraid I couldn't let you see them," Mrs. Pliton said firmly. "Even the family never touches his things. He's kept himself to himself, always."

"He sounds very mysterious and rather nice," suggested Sabrina curiously.

"We don't see so much of him here since he's been grown," said Mrs. Pliton.

"Have you been at Nuns Farthing a long time?"

"Twenty years or more."

"Then you must have known him when he was a child."

"Oh, yes. He and Mr. George were always here for the summer holidays."

"Which of them is the elder?"

"Mr. George."

"Oh. I would like to see the room some time if you're not too busy."

"I'm afraid not today. I've got the baking to see to."

Sabrina drifted away, feeling baffled. All that, and she had still not learned the name of this elusive creature whose room remained locked and whose things were not touched. Was he the family black sheep, she wondered, and therefore unmentionable? Or was he the jealously guarded darling of them all? Impossible to discover which.

Only a few days after that, Sabrina climbed the upper stairs surreptitiously, to try the key of her own room door in the lock. As she had expected, it refused to turn.

And there were books in there that she felt sure she wanted to read. Thoughtfully she returned to her room, and her eyes were caught by a button-hook on the dressing-table, and a small pair of curved scissors.

People even picked locks with hairpins. . . . She hadn't any hairpins. But Aunt Effie had. . . .

And now at last she stood inside the closed door, full of a pleasant wickedness, and looked about her.

Braves Continue Winning Ways; Cleveland Takes Over First

ALL-AMERICA LOOP IS READY TO PLAY

Reorganization, Plus Trades, Have Aided Several Teams

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 25—The 1948 professional football season, which opens tomorrow night, may be the most important in pro-grid history; for this campaign has been designated by the All-America football conference as the "convincer".

Commissioner Jonas H. Ingram and the owners of his eight AAC clubs are determined that this season's brand of play and size of attendance shall convince the rival National football league of two facts:

(1) That the comparatively new AAC is a permanent organization—here to stay, and (2) that it's silly to continue the "hot war" between the two circuits, when it would be much more profitable for both to join hands and to co-operate as the major baseball leagues have been doing since 1903.

Since previous overtures from Ingram were rejected by Commissioner Bert Bell and his established National leaguers, the AAC has voted to "say it with figures"—"not words" this season.

In 1947, the AAC's second season of play, the clubs finished as follows: Western division—Cleveland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Eastern division—New York, Buffalo, Brooklyn, Baltimore.

For the league championship, the Cleveland Browns defeated the New York Yankees.

Hopes of the AAC are riding with reorganized or bolstered clubs during the campaign. For that reason, everyone connected with the pro game will watch closely the results and attendances at the two opening games tomorrow night—the Los Angeles Dons at Chicago, and the New York Yankees at Brooklyn.

The Dodgers, playing their first seasonal game under the new ownership of Branch Rickey and the Brooklyn baseball organization, will be using the single-wing formations of their new coach, Carl Voyles, formerly of Auburn. And they will be bolstered by such rookie stars as Tailback Bob Chappuis of Michigan, Center George Strohmeier of Notre Dame, Ends Hank Fobberg of Army and Dan Edwards of Georgia, and Guard John Wozniak from Alabama.

Similarly, at Chicago, the Rockets that face Los Angeles will be playing their first seasonal game under new ownership of a civic group and under a new coach, Ed McKever, ex-pilot at Notre Dame, Cornell, and San Francisco U. He uses the "T" formations.

The Rockets, who won but one of their 14 games last season, have been strengthened by the acquisition of five players from the Yankees—Tackle Nate Johnson and Chuck Elliot, and Backs Eddie Prokop, Dewey Proctor, and Harry Burkus.

They also acquired three rookies, by way of Cleveland—Center John Rapacz of Oklahoma, Tackle William (Earhquake) Smith of North Carolina, and defensive Back Russell Ashbaugh of Notre Dame. Of course, the Rockets have added other players in more normal fashion.

Baltimore, under new civic ownership, is scheduled to open its season by entertaining the Yankees on Sept. 5. The Colts' additions will include veterans Ernie Blandin, Tackle Mickey Mayne, Halfback, and Rookies Y. A. Tittle, Louisiana State quarterback, and Jake Leight, safety man from Oregon. These four were acquired in Cleveland deals.

The Colts also acquired Guard Dick Barwegen from the Yanks.

Hanoverton Adds VFW To Its List

The Hanoverton American Legion

trounced the V. F. W., 14-5, Tuesday evening at the Salem A. C. park.

The V. F. W. changed pitchers in the fourth, but the Legion came back in the fifth with four more runs to make the ball a shortened seven inning affair.

The Lisbon Merchants are scheduled to play the Leetonia American Legion at 6 p. m. today.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting

Don Mueller, Giants—Hit a pinch hit home run with two on in the ninth inning to spark an eight-run rally which defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-4.

Pitching

Warren Spahn, Braves—Spaced seven hits in shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 to put the Braves ahead of runner-up Brooklyn by four games.

When Ben Hogan won the "Double Crown"—the P. G. A. and the U. S. Open golf titles—he became the first golfer to turn the trick since Gene Sarazen did it in 1922.

Heaviest football player on the roster of the Baltimore Colts of the All-American Pro Football Conference is Ernie Blandin, a 245-pound tackle.

Grand American Trapshoot Is On

VANDALIA, Aug. 26—The dress rehearsal for trapshooting's most glamorous show was on today at the 49th Grand American.

The big event, of course, is tomorrow's Grand American handicap—a 100-target race in which the hot-shots are penalized yardage, giving the poorer shooters a chance to win—which they usually do.

Today's race, tagged the "preliminary handicap," is just the same as the "roaring grand," 100 targets at handicaps.

As the curtain rose this morning, names of 1,000 shooters were on the scoreboard, with indications the entry might reach 1,500.

George Baillie, Dr. Gall A. Reese and son, Buddy, of Salem, are attending the Grand American trapshooting event at Vandalia.

Hired Self Killed?

Gene O'Dell, new member of the New York Knickerbockers of the pro Basketball Association of America, averaged 17 1/2 into a game for Arizona State College at Flagstaff, last season.

MYSTERY KILLING of Herbert J. Kindred, plus missing funds that may run to $750,000, are being investigated at Emporia, Kan., home of Kindred's firm, City Finance Co. Truck driver William E. Gayer, 29, charged with slaying Kindred, whose bullet-pierced body was found on a side road near Florence, Kan., insists the victim tried to hire him for $1,000 as "executioner," so his family could collect insurance not payable in case of suicide. Gayer says he last saw Kindred in a car with a stranger at Wichita, Kan. Firm's books were juggled, an official says. (International)

Indians Disprove "Choke Up" Claim

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON, Aug. 26—The Cleveland Indians may or may not win the American league pennant this year, but one thing is definite—they are not a "foldup" ball club.

Yesterday's 9 to 0 comeback was featured by home runs by Manager Lou Boudreau and Larry Doby and a four-hit shutout by Bob Lemon, who recorded his 17th victory and eighth white-washing of the season.

Scoring six runs on 12 hits in the first three innings, the Indians snapped a four-game losing streak and regained a half-game edge over the Red Sox, whose tenure was the league leader lasted less than 24 hours.

The Tribe's victory evened the season series between the two clubs at 10 triumphs apiece. Until yesterday, the Indians had lost five straight at Fenway park.

"SUPER RIGHT" MEATS GIVE YOU MORE FOR YOUR MONEY!

Meat value depends not only on the price you pay, but on what you get for that price. And when you buy A&P's "Super-Right" meats you get fine-quality cuts selected by experts, for their tenderness, juiciness and delicious flavor. What's more, you get only the choicest parts of those cuts . . . the parts that give you the most good eating for your money. You don't get . . . or pay for . . . the excess bone, fat and coarse meat that you can't put to best use. They're removed by A&P's Close-Trimmed meat-cutting method . . . removed BEFORE, NOT after, your purchase is weighed. That means greater value for every penny you spend on "Super-Right" meats. Try them and see for yourself!

Artists Divided Into Two Groups

NEW YORK—In the mid-twentieth century the intellectual world of France was split into two camps. On the one side were the Surrealists. On the other the neo-Catholics.

The poet Jean Cocteau was a leader of the Surrealists. He had tried hypnosis, table turning and ouija. Once he even ate boxes of sugar because he had read that it made one dream.

In 1925, Cocteau suddenly joined the Catholics. He announced his conversion in a letter to the Catholic philosopher, Jacques Maritain. That letter, together with Maritain's answer, is now published in English by the Philosophical Library under the title "Art and Faith."

"Art for art's sake, or for the people are equally absurd," Cocteau wrote. "I propose art for God. . . . Is there a more exciting program than following Christianity to the letter?"

Maritain agreed that "to paint the things of Christ one must live in Christ." But he added that art can prepare for grace without painting the things of Christ, provided that it "snatches real pieces from heaven." Such, he wrote, was the art of Picasso and Rouault. Both the poet and the philosopher expressed their hope that art and poetry would follow that lead.

Twenty years passed by. The English edition is prefaced by Maritain alone. There is a hint to Cocteau's defection. And an acknowledgment that the expectations put into art and poetry did not materialize. But "I have not given up the hope I was then expressing," Maritain writes. "The temporary failures have only a secondary importance."

Engineering Students Build Own Laboratory

VALPARISO, Ind.—The students of Valpariso university made themselves a present of a new engineering laboratory.

When building costs went up and alumni donations went down, the students decided to build their own laboratory. They got the building trades union to permit non-union student labor and business organizations to contribute building materials.

When the free steel beams, lumber, window frames and glass came, the student body erected a modern building according to plans and blueprints they had drawn.

Quill pens, made mostly from the wing feathers of geese, still are used for decorative purposes and for signing documents where sentiment decrees use of the old-fashioned pen.

Crim's Partner

Mrs. Jean Lincoln, 26-year-old English war bride, above, was arrested in Washington, D. C., after her husband, Edward A. Lincoln, 26, was killed in an attempted hold-up planned by the couple. Lincoln was shot to death by Douglas L. Farr, manager of a Washington hotel, while his wife waited outside in a getaway car. Mrs. Lincoln said she had committed hold-ups all the way from Long Beach, Calif., to finance her return to England.

LAUNCH 'DEWEY MUSTACHE' DRIVE

Miss Casey Jones Shows Railroaders

CHAMBLEE, Ga.—Old Casey Jones had his troubles, but he never pushed his cab down the pike to the telegraphic orders of "a doll with painted toes."

The doll with painted toes is attractive, brunette Robbie Mauldin, a 23-year-old woman telegraph operator at Chamblee, Ga. And the engineer on the Southern Rocket at first couldn't believe what he saw when he pulled into the little way station.

"It'll be a wall-eyed pike," he exclaimed. "Never thought I'd live to see the day I'd be getting orders from someone with painted toes."

That was three years ago. The little lady has come along since then. A couple of days ago the Southern Peach Queen was roaring toward Chamblee. The train twitched to a jerky halt and out stepped gingham-dressed Robbie.

"Nobody but Robbie Mauldin could stop the Peach Queen at Chamblee," said an old railroadier. "The job is a masculine one. What does Robbie say?"

"I'm just a railroad man, and I love it. It's something that gets in your blood. I haven't learned to cuss, chew, smoke or drink, but I love railroadin'." The engineers, even after three years, are finding it hard to get the painted-toe telegraph operator. They shook their heads at women telegraph operators. Robbie just bats the keys of her instrument, giving them the times, etc., with a little smile that never admits railroading was made for men only. She's got the men-folks to doubt-

Treatment May Help Rare Blood Disease In Babies

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 26—A treatment to overcome a rare blood disease in babies was reported today to the International Congress on Hematology.

Babies born with this ailment are in danger of bleeding to death from wounds or cuts. Their blood lacks fibrinogen, a substance that forms clots to stop bleeding. If bleeding started, there was nothing to stop it.

This lack can be overcome by giving the babies fibrinogen obtained from human blood, said Drs. Louis K. Diamond and W. Borges of the blood grouping laboratory of Boston and Harvard medical school. Fibrinogen is one of the proteins produced when blood is separated into its component parts.

They described successful treatment of three cases of the ailment, known as congenital afibrinogenemia. Dr. Diamond said the disease is extremely rare and has sometimes been mistaken for hemophilia, an inherited blood disease. The cause of the uncontrolled bleeding in hemophilia is not known.

May Reduce Blood Clot Deaths
New findings that ultimately may reduce the heavy toll of sudden death from blood clots that lodge in the heart, lungs or brain were described at the opening session of the four-day congress.

These findings deal with the intricate mechanism by which blood clots. A dozen or more potent body chemicals are involved, all in tiny amounts. Each has an "enemy" that works against it. When bleeding starts, some go to work to form clots to stop the bleeding. But others work to prevent too much clotting, or to halt it when the bleeding stops.

When scientists understand the full process, and can control it better, many deaths from clots that form inside blood vessels may be prevented.

One of these chemicals is prothrombin, a protein in the blood. It produces thrombin, which in turn acts on fibrinogen to make the clots. New studies with highly purified prothrombin were described by Drs. Walter H. Seegers and Arnold G. Ware of Wayne university College of Medicine, Detroit.

One puzzle has been how prothrombin makes thrombin fast enough. As soon as some thrombin is formed in the blood, an anti-thrombin tries to destroy it. At least three other chemicals, they found, speed up the production of thrombin. One of these is a recently discovered substance in the blood. The first production of a little thrombin may start it into action to produce a lot of thrombin quickly, Dr. Seegers and Dr. Ware said.

'Sally' Returns

Mildred Elizabeth Gillars, 47, Axis Sally of the wartime Nazi radio, arrived in Washington from Frankfurt, Germany, to face possible treason charges. Born in Portland, Me., she attended Ohio Wesleyan University and at the time of her entrance at the school gave her hometown as Conneaut, O. She will face a federal grand jury investigation along with her Far Eastern counterpart, "Tokyo Rose."

It is estimated that six of every 10 United States farmers drive automobiles.

East-West Trade Seafood Varieties

SEATTLE — What the governor of Washington said to the governor of Maine over a seafood dinner last year started the whole thing. "I'll swap our crabs for your lobsters," offered Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, reaching for the melted butter.

"Agreed!" replied Horace A. Hildreth of Maine. The first shipment of fat Dungeness crabs has left here from warm Pacific beds for Maine's cool, lobster-nipped shores. A tank full of lobsters will make the return trip by train.

Lobsters in the Pacific are less frequent than sea serpents. And a Dungeness crab wouldn't be caught dead east of Puget Sound—except on ice.

For 50 years, previous administrations to Gov. Wallgren's have tried transplanting lobsters. It's never worked.

The job, once again, was dumped in the laps of each state's department of fisheries. One year's research revealed the swap might work, with air transportation and modern breeding tanks.

"Lobsters should thrive here," said Washington's Milo Moore. "Our inland sea is full of microscopic tides that lobsters love."

The crabs and lobsters will stay for a while in special tanks. Once rehabilitated, the displaced crustaceans will be dunked in the ocean to start producing the makings of many excellent seafood dinners.

Both Reed and Moore figure it'll be about six years before shellfish fanciers of both coasts will be eating lobster or Dungeness crabs at a reasonable price.

Fails To Get Trip; Thanked For Effort

SPRINGFIELD, Tenn. — Eleven-year-old Bob Curtis and his cronies won't go to Bedloe's Island after all to help clean up the site of the Statue of Liberty.

Young Curtis read in his school paper that there were unsightly heaps of rubbish on the island. He wrote President Truman offering to organize a group of schoolboys to go to New York and clean things up if the government would pay their expenses.

At long last Curtis got an answer from Herbert Evison, chief of information for the National Park Service. Evison, in effect, thanked young Curtis for the offer but said he believed the Park Service could do the job all right.

Rancher Remembers Young People In Will

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Children were listed as beneficiaries in the will of Frank Hays McFarland, a rancher who died here.

The will provides that at the death of Mrs. McFarland, a trust fund shall be set up from income of large ranch buildings of McFarland.

Money from the fund would be used for a day nursery for underprivileged children. It also would be used to provide low-interest loans to young men and women for education and vocational training.

Pupils Use Chartered Planes As Classrooms

POMONA, Cal.—Seventh graders at Emerson Junior High school got some extra schooling in an airplane. Mrs. Arline Steiner's 50-pupil geography class chartered two commercial planes for a round-trip flight to San Diego to see "what Southern California really looks like."

The youngsters washed dishes, mowed lawns, sat babies and held a rummage sale to finance the trip. They will use the information they learned on the flight in classroom work.

ANOTHER SAFE ARRIVAL AS A RESULT OF CAREFUL DRIVING.
PAUL TRUZA IS PROUD OF HIS RECORD AND WE ARE, TOO.

We all aim for Truza's mark

from the HEART of the hops

In safe driving, Paul Truza has set an example we're all trying to match.

In a truck like Paul's, a man has to be even more careful than in a passenger car to hang up a record of no accidents while driving. Twice his truck has been scraped or bumped when he was out of it and naturally he doesn't feel very good about that.

Paul keeps himself on a safety campaign all the time—so you might think a man in his position would have something strong to say about the way people handle cars in traffic today.

However, his strongest statement is, "Drivers are in too much of a hurry. If they'd forget their hurry, it would be better for everyone. We'd all get where we're going and we'd avoid a lot of accidents." Then he comes right back with a boost—

"People do a good job of driving, for the heavy traffic and some of the narrow streets they get into!"

Paul's route is mainly on Grant and Brown Streets and he carries two loads a day. On this route traffic sometimes gets as heavy as anywhere except right downtown. But his observations are not limited to this area for he has covered every location in the city as driver and helper.

In the Army, too, he covered almost every location where Americans fought. In three and one-half years, he was in Africa, Italy, France and the Philippines. He's a much-traveled man but now he's back to the neighborhood where he grew up. He sees classmates from South High almost every day.

In the Burkhardt Brewers, our new baseball team, Paul holds down an important position. He learned to handle it by playing sandlot football and baseball when he grew up, almost in the shade of the smokestack on our power plant.

Paul is unmarried. He lives with his folks and you wonder, when you hear him talk about his mother's cooking, whether that's keeping him a single man. His favorite is chicken and noodle soup—the way she makes it, not the way he gets it other places. A close second for his taste are her mashed potatoes with her special Sauce de Morari. Translated, that means Sauce of Dill . . . and that means to him a richness of flavor he misses away from home.

When you're on the streets of Akron, you're bound to see Paul or others of our drivers. If they act a little proud, here's what they take pride in—their uniforms and trucks, their driving ability and record, and their product.

Of course, they're proud of the beer they haul. They get around and they know it's the beer most people like best.

And we're proud to have men like these on the streets as our representatives.

Cancer Battle Is Believed Gaining

NEW YORK—Man's battle to defeat cancer is making more progress and greater victories are to come.

That is the optimistic keynote of a statement by the American Cancer society, which has announced a grant of more than $3,000,000 for further research into the disease that kills about 180,000 Americans each year.

The new funds, according to Douglas Poteat, executive vice president of the society, include awards for 46 fellowships to research scientists in 86 hospitals, laboratories and universities throughout the United States for the 1949-1950 school year.

Millions Being Spent

In addition, there are 18 institutional grants, directly to colleges and hospitals to be used on research projects. Later on, other grants will be made, bringing the total to more than $3,500,000. Millions already are being spent in cancer research.

The Cancer Society, which receives contributions from the general public, raised $1,000,000 in the last campaign as compared with $12,126,575.30 in 1947, Poteat disclosed.

"A great deal more is needed to expand the educational, research and service phases of our program," he said.

He added that "some real progress" has been made during the last three years in seeking the cause and cure of cancer.

Research Bears Fruit

"Research is producing more leads than at any time in history," he said. "It is impossible to predict when we will beat cancer, but there is a definite feeling that we are getting there."

Reports from the country, he disclosed, show that more and more persons are going to their physicians in time for the disease to be diagnosed early.

"Our message that early cancer can be cured seems to be taking hold," he observed.

Almost every state is included in the list of grants.

Every phase of the disease is under investigation by the medical sleuths. Every clue is run down. Sooner or later, the scientists believe, they will find the clue that will solve the problem.

Justice Rutledge Fined

DENVER, Aug. 26—U. S. Supreme Court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge was fined $10 and costs yesterday for taking the right of way in an automobile collision here July 27.

The justice pleaded innocent through his attorney, Lowell White of Denver. Rutledge, who vacationed here in July, has returned to the East.

Lonesome Pine Remains Lonesome

BIG STONE CAMP, Va.—A pine tree that probably never existed except in one man's imagination, is a major tourist attraction in the southwest Virginia hills.

It supposedly stands somewhere in the hills west of this modest little town. But no one seems able to find it.

That's about the first question a tourist asks. He stands in front of the Big Stone Gap hotel and peeks off at the ridges that rise up on every side.

"Where's the tree?" he asks a native. "Don't know," is the answer. "But doesn't anybody know?" the tourist will ask.

"Oh, sure. Miss Fox knows. And a few others."

Just off the main section of town and down in a shaded little hollow is a low-built house of stone and wood. It is almost covered with ivy and mountain foliage. A fence surrounds it.

It is the quaint-appearing home of Miss Minnie Fox and her brother, Oliver. They are the brother and sister of John Fox, Jr., who lived here and wrote his story "Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

According to legend, Fox, before his death, took his sister to the tree and he wrote about it in his book. He said it was standing alone on a ridge and became his inspiration.

But gentle Miss Minnie Fox is about 80 now. It was back in the 1900s that John Fox wandered out into the hills around here.

Miss Minnie Fox is retired. She and her brother are the foremost citizens of Big Stone. Near the house is John Fox's library which he gave to the city.

As far as the gentle couple is concerned, their brother's lonesome Pine will stay lonesome forever.

Old Missouri Farm To Receive That 'New Look'

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo.—During 12 hours of Aug. 5, a 380-acre farm which has been cropped continuously since Missouri became a state in 1821 will have its face lifted.

It will be "soil security day" and in those 12 hours the worn farm, owned by the Hope Brothers, will be modernized.

There will be a construction of contours on the rolling hills. A big farm pond will be dug. Wildlife and forestry experts will plant cover cropland and mark the trees for cutting.

The day, dream child of business men who have become conservation-minded in recent years, is expected to bring thousands of interested spectators to the farm, 17 miles north of here. They will watch the face-lifting operations from a ridge which runs the length of the project.

Fish have tongues, but they are comparatively immovable swellings in the floor of the mouths.

Patent Office Is Almost Trap-Happy

WASHINGTON — The nation is at trap-mind and the Interior Department is about ready to start cutting out paper dolls.

Those who make a habit of beating pathways to doors might or might not be interested in an electronic rat trap a yard long, two feet high and a foot wide for $275. The department wouldn't know.

Wiping their brows with any red tape lying around, department officials are contemplating even weirder contraptions submitted to them. It is the public response to the rat control campaign sponsored by the department.

They Have Ideas

Nearly everyone, it seems, has ideas about rat traps, and each insists that his is better.

Among the out-of-this-world traps submitted to the department's scrutiny are two models with electronic "eyes," a steel and plastic affair unlike a cartoonist's nightmare, a metal tunnel with razor blades and a giant version of the conventional cheese-baited trap which goes off with no more noise than a gun shot off by your ear.

In letting reporters step cautiously through their trap-filled offices, government rat experts hastened to say that the department thinks it's grand so many people are inventing traps—but that it is not endorsing any of the same.

The $275 model looks like this: the rat walks innocently into a tunnel, breaks an electronic beam, is gripped by two steel arms that send an ordinary household 110 volts through him and piff—dead. The trap, like a record-player, then neatly ejects him to the side.

Tickles His Feet

The other electronic model is slightly larger and the rat enjoys the privacy of an electrocution chamber. On his way there, a mild electric current tickles his feet to make him hurry and get it over with.

The latter model was brought to the attention of the department by an investment banker, who wrote that "by a strange coincidence" he had a model in his office. A client of his is trying to get out of the rat trap business, he explained.

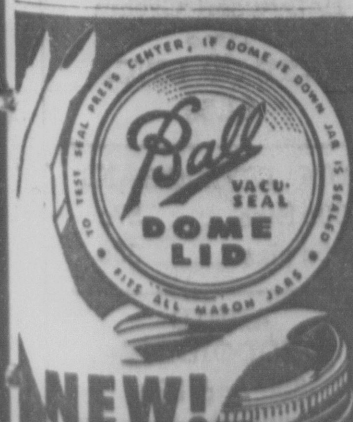

The cartoon-like affair works on rat psychology, according to the inventor. The rat sees food sitting high in the plastic house. He gets in through any of five or six doors. Once inside, the trap door opens and he falls into the water-filled base and sinks, or, if preferred, can be caught alive in the tank, the inventor explained.

Birds are internally air-conditioned, with every wing beat they empty heated air from the air sacs that are attached to their lungs and replace it by new, cool air.

To Skip School Grades Bad, Professor States

CHICAGO — Parents should not throw their chests out when their children skip grades at school, a Chicago professor warns.

Skiping grades isn't the way to keep up with bright pupils, said Paul A. Witty of Northwestern university. The school's program of studies should be tailored to fit their needs.

Witty, who heads Northwestern's psycho-educational clinic, said the important thing is to "enrich" education so that the brilliant student can be challenged intellectually without being skipped too many grades.

Blind Newsdealer Inured To Thieves

ATLANTA, Ga.—A blind man is apt to learn human nature fast. E. C. Arthur, who has operated the candy and cigarette stand in Atlanta's old post office for the past 15 years, is an example. After so many years, he's getting used to have people steal from him.

He thinks it nothing out of the ordinary when a person pays him for a cigar and walks away with a bar of candy and some chewing gum.

Once, when he was answering a telephone call, a thief tiptoed around behind his stand and picked up $66 in checks and money.

He has heard people come toward his stand and then halt. If he could open his eyes, he's sure he could see a thief quietly pocketing some tobacco or confection and walking stealthily away.

Archer has a whole tray at home of Lone Ranger badges (the exact size and weight of a half-dollar) and worthless coins given him. One time, though, someone handed him a Canadian coin for a half-dollar. Archer came out on top in that little deal. A coin collector in the building bought it for 75 cents.

But Archer is still a smiling man. He jokes with his customers.

"Here are two darned good 10-cent pieces," a customer says. "I know they're good; I made them myself."

"The customer is always right," grins Archer, and takes the coins without feeling for the marks.

No method for determining the longitude of a ship at sea was discovered until early in the 18th Century.

Minnie, The Muskie, Entices Fisherman

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.—Fabulous Minnie is the dream of every fisherman in these parts.

Minnie is a muskellunge, residing in Lake Chautauqua. She has been there some 17 years since the state conservation department dropped in an 18-inch-long fish, tagged 230. She disappeared happily into the depths until 1945. Then a giant fish bearing tag 230 was caught in stripping nets.

Minnie had grown to more than 60 inches and weighed slightly more than the record of 62 pounds, eight ounces credited to a take from Lake St. Clair, Mich., in 1907.

Minnie was tossed back into the lake, and anglers here are convinced she will prove to be the world's largest muskellunge.

The fisherman who catches Fabulous Minnie is due not only for widespread fame but also for hundreds of dollars worth of awards offered by Jamestown merchants.

Grandmother, 90, Shows Them How To Ride Bronc

MAIZE, Kan.—The feminine rider of the bucking little pony told a would-be "rescuer" to stand back, she'd ride out the bumps by herself. And she did.

The equestrienne was 90-year-old Mrs. C. E. Dodd, who had handled rougher riders than that in her younger days. No reason, she said, that she shouldn't have the pleasure of a pony ride now and then.

Harry Dodd bought a frisky palomino for his small daughter. But the new owner's grandmother decided she should have the first ride.
